Narcotic pain medications are rarely required.
The only conditions are that you are medically stable and able to participate actively in the program you've chosen.
Documentary are a way of making people believe in the evidence suggested in any documentary because documentaries are a way of brainwashing people into believing the official line