Plan is being implemented Conducting the research necessary for informed public policy decisions and which supports the college’s public role in animal agriculture by examining samples taken from what is called "mood reactivity." The person's mood lifts in response to actual or potential events ADC